Doing The Work
 Those who have been benumbed by the wild claims made on behalf of government power development should consider a recent release from the Edison Electric Institute. According to it, the job of taking electricity to rural America will be practically complete in 1951. Work now in progress or definitely planned will connect an additional 1,300,000 rural dwellings, most of them on farms, to power lines by the end of that year.

What that means to rural America needs little amplification—electricity is the cheapest and the most efficient servant ever devised. It can revolutionize the life of the farm family, doing away with much manual drudgery and increasing production and income. And one of the most interesting aspects of this revolutionary process is the agency that is responsible for it.

At the end of last year, 12,900,000 rural dwellings were taking electric service. REA co-ops served 2,630,000, or 16 per cent. Municipal and other government agencies brought power to 300,000, or about 2 per cent. All the rest—10,600,000 dwellings, representing 82 per cent of the whole—were served by the business-managed electric companies!

In other words, free enterprise, as represented by the regulated, heavily-taxed utilities, is the driving influence behind the stepped-up rural electrification program. The tax-subsidized government power ventures get in the propaganda, while the private companies are doing the work.

HERALD MAIL BOX

This column is for Herald readers to express their opinions on questions of the day. They are not necessarily the opinions of this paper.

Believing that the Ten Commandments are a basic guide for living and that we are all created in the image of God, we are glad to offer a service to our readers by publishing a column in which they may express their views on the Ten Commandments.

The eighth Commandment is: "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." This means to swear falsely before a judge, or to speak untruthfully or unjustly, so as to injure another's reputation.

We are commanded by the eighth Commandment to speak the truth in all things, and to be careful of the honor and reputation of every one. We must be careful of the honor and reputation of everyone because there are among men's precious possessions.

The eighth Commandment forbids all rash judgments who suppose evil of others without sufficient grounds. They are guilty of slanders who speak unkind and untrue things about their neighbor. They are guilty of back-biting who speak unkindly of a person's faults in his absence. They are guilty of detractions who speak of the faults of another without necessity.

A lie is telling by word or sign what one knows in untruth, in order to deceive another. "A lie is a foul blot in a man's life."

Eccl. 28:28
 To tell a lie is never right, even if it may be the means of doing good, for every lie is opposed to God, who is the Infinite Truth.

An untrue or untrue story is one which the teller knows to be untrue, but he tells it to gain an end in himself.

The following reasons should be given for telling lies: 1st. A liar resembles the devil, who is the father of lies; 2nd, the habit of lying leads to eternal damnation; 3rd. The truthful man resembles God, is pleasing in His sight, and is respected by men.

We best guard ourselves against lies of the tongue; 1st. By being moderate and careful in what we say; 2nd, by entertaining only kind thoughts, tered in the Celestial road at Jupiter and Juno, and transferred to the Louisville and Nashville Railroad its successor.

OBSERVATIONS

The Louisville and Nashville corporation sold vast track to the Southern Land and Timber company, for $82,500, some of the land still being in its legal possession. The next big transaction in the chain of title transfer, was from the Land company to R. J. Bolles, covering land in the wild, undeveloped west Glades, much of it along the south shores of Lake Okechobee.

The abstract gives the story of the transfers, mortgages, leases, court suits, set up of commissions and trustees, tax delinquencies, will of owners, and much other necessary legal data, to produce a clean title to properties. The abstract of school furniture in the rooms, covered 110 pages of printed and type written matter.

Most of the beautiful flowers which are raised in the Glades, come off rose bushes, which are propagated at The Everglades. This is the center of rose cultivation of that state, where thousands of acres are devoted to rose nursery purposes. While some roses are picked for the market trade, it is out of the bushes that the capital income is derived. There is also a small perfume distillery located in the Tiers section.

Lamar Jackson, engineer for the Everglades Drainage District, is authority for the statement that unless better and heavier law penalty laws are provided against the hunting of alligators, that this type of reptiles will soon be extinct. He calls for a law which provides for a "No Buy-Sell" on alligators.

The tobacco which smokers consume in their cigars, cigarettes and pipe is from curing store houses of stocks purchased several years ago. Producers of cigarettes recently announced around an 18c advanced price in carton quantities, and that advance was readily passed along to the various handlers and consumers. Popular standard brands of cigarettes are now retaining in Belle Glade from 21c to 22c the pack, or around 18c a pack, if bought in carton lots, which price is up to war day prices, although the supply is not limited. The advance by the manufacturers of cigarettes was laid to high price of tobacco and labor.

This is the month when seed beds for tomatoes, eggplant and peppers should be prepared and seed planted, for plants for later field propagation. These crops were formerly raised in the Glades in large quantities but for several seasons past have been greatly on the decline. Farmer survey shows that fewer beans will be planted this fall than customarily.

When a man goes into a barber shop and pays 50c for a shave and a $1.00 for a haircut and corresponding prices for head wash and shampoo, a local patron remarked that the process was a clip skin and jip.

As a whole the spring crop experiment seems to have been a success and satisfactory to a majority of the farmers, who took a dabble in the venture. There is indication that far larger acreage will be planted to corn this fall and winter, as the crops appears to be a more sure and profitable one than vegetables.

Vacationists are slowly returning from their vacations, and it appears that our citizens got to see most every section of our states.

Principal Frank O. Hobson, counts himself most fortunate over the fact that school will open on September 8th, that every position on the school faculty will be manned with competent instructors. He is looking for an increased enrollment over last year, but this means, there will be crowded conditions in the buildings to care for the kiddies. The school buildings have been thoroughly renovated and in some instances new furniture in the rooms have been changed for better utility.

"A new librarian is now in charge of the city library at the Women's Club. Mrs. Harris replaced Mrs. Browne, so long and faithfully connected with its building and management.

Mrs. Inga Neilson, at Choson, has quite a grove of papayas, and when the growing fruit comes into maturity for use, they will have a big harvest. She has one tree that at present has 150 separate fruit, and all these forming buds and other trees with a hundred or more fruit.

Officials of the Everglades Drainage state that the water levels in the canals and lake are very satisfactory, and that if heavy volume of rain come the next few weeks, that there will be practically no danger or damage from the high waters. Dikes, ditches and laterals are clean, and dikes higher and stronger, as a result of work done on them during the summer.

Our sister state of Georgia at one time was noted for its apple culture, and at Columbus, there still stands a monument in the center of the city erected to glorify the apple. Peaches and peapans are now the fruit grown in the state, although its fine meats play quite an important in the income of the state. Peanut culture has more than doubled in acreage the past eight years.

The Methodist Church mission was established in Mexico 18 years ago by Dr. William Butler and Bishop John Keener, of the then northern church. The churches of that land are now engaged in the Diamond Jubilee celebration of the church's foundation.

Hiroshima, the first bombed city of Japan, was all but demolished three years ago by the atomic bomb, under American direction, has about been rebuilt, boasting of modern buildings, stores and schools.

The joint efforts of the Lions, Rotary and Elks clubs have made it possible for the Scout troops of Belle Glade, to again have a place of meeting in an attractive and convenient surroundings. New roofs, new ceilings, new floors, new light fixtures, and improved and improved sanitary conditions are the improvements which have been made through the generosity of the city club citizens.

The names Harry Truman and Thomas Dewey have the same number of letters. Truman beats Dewey by one letter in his last name, and Dewey over Harry in his first name. Now who is going to be the winner in the Presidential race is the big question?

Most of the top baseball bats used in the big leagues are manufactured in the mammoth plant of the Halex-Broddy corporation at Louisville, Ky., who have been turning out their celebrated bats since 1884 when the first "slugger" made by Bud Hilleker, for Pete Brown, and now millions of baseball bats are turned out from the plant, along with golf clubs of various designs. Ash and hickory are the woods from which bats are largely produced, and come in billet size and shaped into a hitting tool. Bats that formerly sold for around $2 now bring double that price.

The fight for pennant honors in the National and American leagues is the tightest for many years past. Four teams are vied in the American league and three of them in the National. The Cleveland Indians and Connie Mack's Philadelphia are the surprise teams of the year, and have been the leaders to date, with Boston and the Yankees pressing hard. Boston lead in the National, followed closely by the Giants and Cardinals. All attendance records in both leagues will be topped this year. Cleveland hopes to reach the 2,000,000 attendance mark. Bob Feller, the Cleveland ace has been the big factor in the pitching division this season.

Federal Conservation Rules For Coming Hunting Season

The U. S. Department of Interior has granted Florida duck hunters another 30-day season and bag limits identical with last year despite efforts to have the season lengthened and bag limits enlarged. Director Ben C. Morgan, State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, said today.

Federal migratory fowl regulations, just announced, also disclose that Florida's mourning dove hunting season has been shortened 15 days and the daily bag limit has been reduced from 15 to 10.

The duck, goose and coot season will extend from Dec. 10 to Jan. 8. Four ducks can be bagged in a day and hunters will be permitted the first five days of the season but will be closed each Monday and Tuesday thereafter. The goose bag limit remains the same as last year, one a day.

Mourning dove season will be open from Dec. 18 to Jan. 31 with hunting open the first five days and closed on Mondays and Tuesdays thereafter. The season in Broward and Monroe counties in the Fourth District, are the only exceptions. Dove season in those counties will be open Oct. 1-31 and hunting will be allowed every day. The daily dove shooting period in all districts will be from 12 o'clock noon until sunset. The bag limit has been set at 10 a day.

Ducks, geese and coot may be taken from one-half hour before sunrise until an hour before sunset under the federal regulations. However, on opening day they may not be hunted prior to 12 o'clock noon.

Reforesting Program For Hendry County Sponsored By Atlantic Coast Line

The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad which owns vast acreages in Hendry, Collier, Lee and Polk counties, through the Agricultural Department, has announced that it plans to put on a large reforesting program, which will be promoted by M. W. Wright, its forest director, and J. R. Spratt, who will maintain office at LaBelle.

Of the 325,000 acres some will be devoted to forest work, other for pasture grasses and some for farming. The tract of 100,000 acres in Hendry county is to receive initial treatment. Defective and damaged trees will be removed entirely and new seed sown over the territory and over ripe timber will be made into lumber products.

New installations include several fire observation towers, telephone connections, and they will repair and dig old and new canals, ponds and lakes in some instances will be drained. Some land will be replanted with pine and other areas will get slash pine seedling.

No Side Street Parking At Ball Park Say City Police

Mayor M. D. Lloyd and Chief of Police Pennington are asking patrons of the soft ball game at Memorial Park to observe parking requests, that no parking be done on the side road leading to the ball ground entrance.

This is to allow general traffic entrance to the homes, and in case of accident or fire must be kept open so that ambulance or fire apparatus can reach the grounds.

Unless this request is complied with, there will be some red tickets appearing on cars, with summons to appear in police court. The police call attention that there is plenty of space for safe parking along or on the school property.

Finding that too many motorists were running red stop lights, a number of arrests have been made in the past ten days. The police state that motorists know the purpose of the lights, which is traffic safety, and are calling on all to comply with the light cautions.

Coast Guardmen Stage Hurricane Aid Show

The Auxiliary Coast Guard, at Clewiston, put on an exhibition there on Sunday, to demonstrate the program that the Guardmen would be expected to carry out in time of hurricane call.

Both boats, airplane and radio were used in the demonstration, under the observation of Coast Guard officials from Miami. Airmen staged stunts of distributing message blocks over the range land and lake islands, located a missing craft on an lake; and demonstrated the wake-talkie radio service for land and other radio service to lake stations, and the use of "very" flames. People of the lake region are less fearful of hurricanes now than in the past, knowing the various agencies have well established relief corps ready for action in case of disaster.

Contractors Find Obstacles In Building Oklawaha Spur

Over in the Palmade area of Glades county there is much activity along the route of the Atlantic Coast line, where it has massive equipment digging out sand and rock. These products are loaded onto flat cars and then taken to the scene of the railway extension going to the Oklawaha Sugar refinery property, where by special equipment they are dumped and thrown onto the new road bed.

Contractors have found it necessary to place thousands of cars of sand to form a low foundation for the grade, which is later built up with dirt and rock lastly by lime rock and slag. Some of the underlying line rock has proven so hard that it has to be torn up by explosives before the draglines can handle it.

High saw grass, soft mud and water are obstacles which the contractors are meeting on the line.

Two miles of track are being laid a month, and three large steel piled bridges will be constructed on the 13 mile project. The contractors hope to finish the stretch of new construction early in 1949.

Floriculturist Presents Program

The Woman's Home Demonstration Club met at the Recreation Hall on Thursday. The entire hour was given over to a talk by Layman Hardy on grafting, budding and inarching tropical fruits and plants.

He demonstrated methods of budding and grafting citrus stock for this area. He also had a demonstration of a cork tree on a water oak by the method of inarching and recommended grafting for mangoes.

He is now conducting some interesting experiments using the local custard apple or pond apple stem for a root stock for the Cherimoya, Sugar Apple, Sour Sop, Illama and Atamoya. The Atamoya is a hybrid of the Cherimoya and the Sugar Apple and a choice fruit as are the Cherimoya and Illama. The Illama, he stated cannot be grafted or budded directly on the custard apple but may be sandwiched or budded upon a graft on any of the others above named which is growing upon the pond apple root.

Mrs. Leon and Mrs. Kelley Willis were hostesses for the afternoon and served individual cup cakes and a fruit drink to Mrs. Mollie Covell of Okaloosa, Mrs. Holger Lyngbom of Belle Glade, Miss Sara Horton, Miss Ingrid Thierse of West Palm Beach, Mrs. Verda Higginsbohm, Mrs. Marvin Miller, Mrs. B. Fish Ponds Becoming Popular In Florida

Farm and fish ponds constructed in Florida now total 173 and represent an increase of 101 per cent in the number of ponds since the first of last year, the research and industrial division of the Florida State Methodist Church, said in a statement yesterday in the weekly business review.

"Of the completed total 173 ponds are artificially constructed and classified as farm ponds since their principal purpose is to serve as farm reservoirs. These ponds, in addition, are stocked with fish. The remainder, or 196 ponds, are fish ponds."

"Districts leading in the number of completed ponds are Pinellas with 122; Gulf District (Hernando and Citrus Counties) with 38; Gadsden with 29; Choctawhatchee River District (Walton and Holmes Counties) with 28; Polk with 20; Orange Hill District (Bay and Washington Counties) with 17 and Yellow River District (Okaloosa County) with 18 ponds."

"In addition to the ponds now completed in Florida 342 more are planned and in various stages of construction."

"The development of the farm and fish ponds program is an important part of the work of the Soil Conservation Service designed for farm betterment in supplementing diet, generating income, providing ready water for stock, reducing water and water control facilities."
